#WEARESCHSL

In January, more than 8,500 college-bound student-athletes from around the country joined the NCAA Eligibility Center's staff for a one-hour webinar. Staff discussed requirements student-athletes must know in order to be eligible to play Division I or II sports. A question-and-answer session was held at the end of the event, with Eligibility Center staff on hand to answer submitted questions.

The recorded event is a great resource to share with your student-athletes and their families!

Here's an idea: Take Black History Month efforts further by having students and staff not only share information on pivotal figures within the school, but encourage them to share their school-based knowledge on their social media platforms. Create a # unique to your school for them to use when posting. Highlight both past and present figures of importance, academic and athletic leaders. Your school undoubtedly has a history unlike all other SC schools. Tell us about it! #WeAreSCHSL
